

Attention Military Connected Teens Aged 12 and up

You are invited to the

4-H Teen Leadership Conference: November 5th, 2016

At URI's
North Woods Challenge Course
Kingston, RI
10am-2pm

Teens will learn all about personalities and how to work with others as a team. This program will be led by the University of Rhode Island Center for Student Leadership Development staff and student team. As a Strengths-based center, CSLD will help you discover your strengths and find your own unique path to leadership.

What to expect: A day full of fun, outdoor activity mixed with leadership content. We will explore the Type Focus personality assessment as it applies to self leadership and how to be an effective group member. Participants will learn to understand their own needs within a group as well as the needs of others based on their assessment results. Participants may be asked to swing on ropes, balance on boards, walk on wires, and climb – experiences that give participants a practical opportunity to practice their new leadership skills. New this year, participants will have the option to experience the indoor rock wall to practice overcoming personal challenges and pushing your limits.

URI- CSLD operates by the philosophy of challenge by choice, meaning that we welcome all participants to choose the appropriate level of challenge for them to get the most out of the experience. Activities will be adapted to fit the needs of the group and all ability levels are welcome. 4-H Teens and volunteers did this program in 2015 and loved it! It really is for everyone!
